November 12, 2019

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 12 /CSRwire/ - For the fourth year in a row, Forbes and JUST Capital have included Humana Inc. (NYSE: HUM) on the JUST 100, a comprehensive ranking that measures how the largest publicly traded U.S. companies are performing on issues that matter most to Americans. Humana has also been named the health care industry leader in the JUST 100 Treatment of Customers category.

Forbes and Just Capital have polled more than 96,000 people since 2015 regarding what they most want to see from the nation's biggest businesses. The companies are then rated on 29 issues in five stakeholder dimensions, including: how a company invests in its employees, treats its customers, supports its communities, reduces its environmental impact, and delivers value to its shareholders.

"At Humana, I have the privilege of working with employees who truly care about helping people get and stay healthier, and making it easier for people to interact with the health care system. So it's an honor to be recognized as the health care industry leader for how we treat our members," said Bruce Broussard, Humana's President and Chief Executive Officer. "That commitment to helping people improve their health drives Humana in our efforts to be a good corporate citizen. It means a great deal to us to be recognized once again on the JUST 100."
